INTRODUCTION TO HOLISTIC ANALYSIS: Certification

Personal and Trans-Personal Analytical Training

The Science of Differentiation College Certification Program

In 2003, Ra began to introduce the complexities of the Mechanics of the Maia. Through myriad of Courses, Lectures, and Seminars the knowledge base was profoundly expanded.

Holistic Analysis is the integration of PHS Primary Health System, Rave Psychology, Variable, Lunar & Planetary Resonance and Base Orientation knowledge with traditional chart interpretation. This program was made possible in part by Ra's creation of Maia Mechanics Advanced Imaging, programmed by Asi Farran. MMAI is the professional tool of Academy graduates. MMAI incorporates and illustrates the full spectrum of a unique mapping.

Holistic Analysis is the full realization of Human Design analytical potential. Holistic Analysis is open to students of advanced and postgraduate programs and to students of the Science of Differentiation College.

Each Semester includes ten lectures as scheduled below:

Holistic Analysis Semester 1: Fundamentals, May 2009

Holistic Analysis Semester 2: Diagnostics, Sept 2009

Holistic Analysis Semester 3: Certification, May 2010

This is a transcript of the third semester lectures of the three-semester Certification Program. Ra lectures in the first hour and then in the second hour (which was not transcribed) does an interactive workshop with student contributions in order to practice their oral presentation.

Lecture One

Introduction

The Layout of the Class Structure

Hello and welcome to all of you. Welcome to this final round of Holistic Analysis. First of all about the way in which this program is going to work. For the first seven weeks of the program, the first seven sets of classes, basically I will do what is fundamentally a lecture in the first hour and then we will do an interactive workshop in the second hour.

Everything about certification in this program is about oral presentation. I'm really not going to wait to see if there's going to be volunteers to contribute to what we're doing. I'm just simply going to call you and ask you, invite you, whatever the case may be, inform you to make a comment because I think it's very important. I think a lot of you aren't necessarily comfortable with that. I'm sorry, but it really is what this is all about.

This is real oral tradition that we're working with here. This is the transformation that takes place in a higher level of communication between two people. So much about the work of doing analysis for others is about one's basic skills in being able to communicate and being comfortable in communicating. So, it is really something I'm going to stress throughout this, because I think that this is really an essential ingredient. After all, we're all in this together and it really is about participating as fully as you can.

There are No Set Parameters for a Holistic Analysis Reading

The process that we've been through, we've been through two theoretical semesters where we looked at the Design and Personality in its various holistic potentials, and last semester the opportunity for me to be able to work individually with each of you and to give you a holistic analysis. One of the interesting things about holistic analysis is that there is no THE analysis.

If I were again to go through this process of giving each and every one of you a holistic reading using this level of the knowledge, I could do it in an entirely different way with a focus on something else. I think that's one of the things that I tried to make evident in that. I hope that most of you at least had a chance to a number of these analyses, because it really is at the core of what we're doing.

In other words, this is not about a fixed reading the way you would do so, for example, with a Human Design analyst in which there are set parameters for the work that has to be done. And even though there can be many levels of a foundation reading, fundamentally it's really about the same thing, getting the same message across. Holistic analysis is very different. It is not for the novice, after all. It's for somebody who's really in their process, because it is something that is very deep and at the same time any holistic analysis can take different perspectives.

Variable is a Gateway to Real Differentiation

What I really want to bring you to now is not theoretical anymore. That is, I want to give you a framework upon which you can use the information you have and use it effectively. In other words, develop techniques, or simplify it for you in terms of preparation to do analysis for somebody. Where I'm going to begin—let me give you a chart. This is the Just Now I used for 13:30 GMT today for the forecast that I do each day on Facebook, so this is the assumption of a birth in this case with this particular data at that time.
